

Announcing Plans For A Hawarden Quasquicentennial History Book

125th History Book Committee
PO Box 68
Hawarden, IA 51023

The Hawarden 125th History Book Committee announces plans for the publishing of a Hawarden Quasquicentennial History Book in conjunction with our Quasquicentennial in 2012. It's been 25 years since the publication of the Hawarden Centennial Book. The purpose of this book is not to repeat but to complete the work started in that 1987 history.

Included in this volume will be a brief history and picture of all the following who wish to participate and will be published in the book FREE OF CHARGE.

- * All households, both old and new families, both previous and present residents.
  - * Churches
  - * Military
  - * Please lend us your general interest photos: street scenes, rural scenes, early ball teams, church groups, school groups celebrations, early businesses, etc. (Your pictures will be returned to you.)
  - * Schools
  - * This book will also contain a section on our 125th celebration coming up in September. Also included will be photos from the Centennial celebration.
- * All social, civic and fraternal organizations
  - * Even if your family was in the 1987 book, we would like an update of your history. Include the page number your story was on the Centennial Book (see sample story).
  - * Families who were included as a part of another family history in the Centennial Book are encouraged to submit their own complete history for this book.

For this book we invite all families to take a few minutes now to discuss putting their material on paper and selecting a photograph, either a current one or old one (black-and-white or color), and submit these as follows:

1. In approximately 300 words per household explain the beginnings and bring the story up to today. See sample stories.
2. Each story should be signed "Submitted by _____."
3. Type the story or have it typed on plain typing paper, double-spaced, and keep a copy for your own record.
4. Submit a picture with the story. Write a caption for the picture as well as the name and address of the owner so that the picture can be returned to you after the book is published. Tape (please no paper clips or staples) these pieces of information to the back of the picture. DO NOT SUBMIT THE PICTURE IN A FRAME.
5. If your picture is old and fragile, it is advisable to have a photo-print made by a photographer or you may submit a quality, high-resolution (300 dpi) laser scan that has been trimmed, either a hard copy or a clearly labeled digital file on a CD-rom in tiff format.
6. The picture and story should be turned in or mailed to the address above no later than May 1, 2012.

Your story may need to be shortened if repetitious of other stories or if space does not permit, but this is only if absolutely necessary. If you wish to memorialize or honor your parents or others, additional space is available. See the Order Form.

We expect the book to contain from 200 to 300 pages or more and include 600-800 pictures, depending on the number of families, churches and organizations, etc., that submit their stories and pictures. The more submitted the better the book will be for the same price. For those reserving the book before publication, the Early Bird Price is $47.50. After that, the price will be higher. This will be a Limited Edition printing and the book is certain to have collector's value in time. Reserve your personal copies now to be sure you get them. This will make a handsome and memorable gift. Gift Certificates are available.

This book will be of excellent quality, beautiful, permanent, hard-bound. Sample history books from the company are available to examine. You may leave your pictures, story and order form at the Hawarden Public Library or Hawarden City Hall, or mail them to the above address

Again your picture and story will be included in the book ABSOLUTELY FREE and will be an important part of this special publication for anyone who ever called Hawarden home.

GLENN AND LaVONNE GREGG (Page 628 in the Centennial Book)

A lot of really good things have happened to LaVonne and Glenn in the last 25!!! We have, of course, grown older and have endured medical kinds of happenings like older folks do: life-threatening cancer for LaVonne—weighs 100 pounds but eats, sleeps and is energetic enough to run a house—and Glenn lost a leg from longtime war-time complications and is adapting well. Both were honored at an impressive Purple Heart ceremony in Hawarden's new events center in 2010. They have retired from farm and feedlot activities (still feeding cattle) and living in town, enjoying their home and expanded garden freebies.

Gayle is with St. Luke's Hospital in Sioux City and, even though she has fought through a cancer situation, she's well on her way to recovery and has hung on to her upbeat personality mode. Her kids are her pride: Brody, superintendent for a large construction contractor from Atlanta, is married to Roberta and at home in Dallas. Daughter Corissa is in Brazil working for a medical equipment manufacturer with headquarters in Germany and is ecstatic with what the world might hold for her.

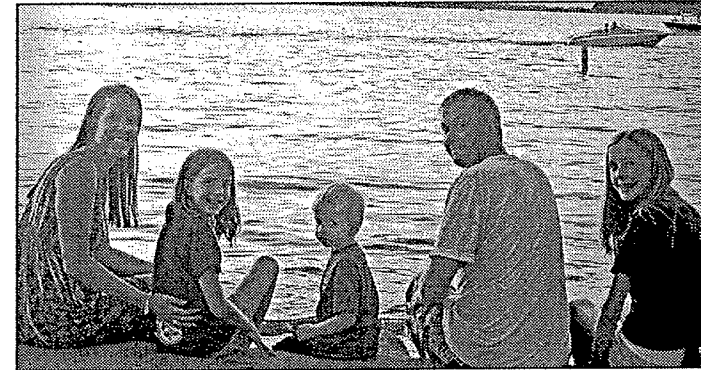

Larry remains with the West Sioux school system as a technology coordinator while wife Carol is employed locally by the Peoples Bank. Their son Adam is a lawyer for a Des Moines firm and is politically active as a lobbyist at the state legislature. His wife Cari is employed by Wells Fargo Bank. They have a son, Jackson Glenn, who is pretty much in charge of their lifestyle. Daughter Holli and her husband Miles Rasuch, both working in technology for the City of Sioux Falls, are the proud parents of a son, Ian, one year old in 2011. To round out their family of five, Marissa, pert and pretty, is a student at Morningside and will be headed to dental school at the U of I in 2013.

Gary, working for a feed company, has remarried to a swell gal, Carla, and they live on an acreage out of Sioux City. Daughter Erika is CEO of a preschool for the needy, married to Andre McWell who is with Morningside administration, and they are the parents of a couple super kind of middle school kids that will excel in the classroom as well as the athletic fields. Daughter Erin, a dental hygienist, is married to Shane Smailey, a captain in the Oklahoma City Fire Department, and they are looking forward to their first offspring—twins—in July!

KLARENBEEK FAMILY

Brad Klarenbeek grew up in Rock Valley, Iowa, and after graduating from RVHS in 1991, he attended Northwestern College for a year. He then transferred to Morningside College in Sioux City, Iowa, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in 1996. Brad is currently a PE and health teacher at West Sioux schools and is the varsity boys basketball coach and head golf coach.

April Lundstrom grew up in Canton, South Dakota, and after graduating from CHS in 1993, she attended Southeast Technical Institute in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and in 1995 she received an Associates degree in Surgical Technology. April has worked as a Surgical Technician since graduating but has had some other jobs along with being a Surg. Tech., such as Purchasing Director and Central Processing Director. Currently April works in the Labor and Delivery Department at Sanford Health in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. After knowing each other for only three months, Brad and April were engaged to be wed, and on September 20, 1997, the two were married. Brad received his first job in Waverly, South Dakota, where they lived for three years. In the summer of 1999 they moved to Hawarden, Iowa, and have resided there since, raising their three kids:

Tyra Lee was born December 22, 1998. Tyra enjoys basketball, softball, cross-country and track, volleyball, golf, playing her flute and hanging out with family and friends.

Thea Starr was born October 25, 2002. Thea likes basketball, golf, jumping on the trampoline and loves to sing and dance and play with friends. She likes to fish, hang out with family and adores our dog, Rocco!

Quinten Cash was born January 11, 2008. Quinten loves all sports but is infatuated with basketball and golf. He enjoys fishing and being with family. He's very tech-savvy and is a wiz on the iPod and iPad. Quinten inspires us every day. He's endured many obstacles in his life so far that many of us won't encounter in our lifetime. He was diagnosed with Velo-Cardio-Facial Syndrome (22Q11.2 Deletion Syndrome) and Childhood Apraxia of Speech in December of 2010. VCFS or 22Q is a micro-deletion of his 22nd chromosome and can cause numerous problems, but thankfully so far Quinten is on the mild end of the syndrome. With his speech disorder, he understands language and can formulate words to say but he just can't get his words out. He's on the high end of the severity for the speech disorder and while Quinten is non-verbal, they work on his speech at home and with intense speech therapy four times a week. April continues to learn American Sign Language to then turn around and teach Quinten and family. Quinten currently talks with his hands using the wonderful world of sign language. He continues to amaze all who know him, and he steals the hearts of many.

From the Klarenbeeks to you—embrace differences, keep an open mind, spread positivity, be compassionate and keep the faith.
